Martin R. Peel Assassinated at Charleston.

No Motive Assigned for the Deed—The Earp Party Want to See a Man—
Pacific Coast News.

Associated Press Dispatches.]

TUCSON, March 28.—The following dispatch was received from Charleston to-day: M. R. Peel, civil engineer of the Tombstone Mill and Mining Company, was shot and killed by some unknown person last night. Mr. Peel, in company with Mr. Austin, the superintendent, and Mr. Cheney, were sitting in the office when the door suddenly opened and two masked men appeared, each armed with a rifle. Each leveled his rifle, one at Mr. Austin and the other at Mr. Peel, and fired almost simultaneously, and Mr. Peel fell pierced through the heart. Mr. Austin, the instant the assassins leveled their guns, and before they fired, dropped to the floor, and the bullets passed over him but within six inches of his head. Immediately upon the fall of Mr. Peel the assassins ran and disappeared over the hill back of the office. At this hour it is impossible to assign any motives for the dastardly deed. It certainly could not have been for the purpose of robbery, for it is known that outside of the bullion they keep but very little money on hand.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.
A special to the Citizen from Charleston to-day says: The assassination of M. R. Peel last night adds another name to the already long list of assassinations and murders which have taken place here. Mr. Peel was the son of Judge B. L. Peel, formerly of Los Angeles, and now of Tombstone. He had been here but a few months superintending the construction of the new dam across the San Pedro for the Tombstone Mill and Mining Company. Mr. Peel was an educated and refined gentleman, and was respected and well liked by his employers and all with whom he came in contact. His body was in Tombstone, at which place the burial will take place this afternoon. It is impossible to assign a motive for the dastardly deed unless it be that of robbery. The assassins undoubtedly intended to kill Mr. Austin, the Superintendent of the mill, also, but by his quick movement in dropping to the floor he frustrated their plan. In their flight one of them dropped his hat and mask, which may give some clue to their identity. They had horses waiting for them on the ore dump, and it is said that after the shooting they stopped there awhile watching the effect of their deed.

THE EARP PARTY.
They Board a Passenger Train—Evidently Want to See a Man.

TUCSON, March 28.—Conductor Frank Gillette, of the west-bound passenger train, arriving here to-night, says that the Earp party boarded the east-bound train, Smith conductor, at 1 P. M. to-day at Dragon Summit, and after passing through the cars mounted their horses and started in the direction of the mountains.

SHERIFF PAUL'S SAY.
Sheriff Paul has returned from Tombstone. He says that he did not go in pursuit of the Earps, because the posse selected by Sheriff Behn, of Tombstone, were mostly hostile to the Earps and that a meeting meant bloodshed without any probability of arrest. Sheriff Paul says the Earps will come to Tucson and surrender to the authorities.

LACKS CONFIRMATION.
The reported fight at Bureigh Springs is not credited, and up to the present time lacks confirmation.

OTHER ARIZONA NEWS.
A Masonic Lodge Organized—Pima County Grand Jury.

TUCSON, March 27.—The Masonic Grand Lodge of Arizona have elected A. M. Bragg, of Tucson, Grand Master; J. T. Alsop, of Phoenix, D. G. Master; Alonzo Bailey, of Globe, S. G. Warden; W. A. Harwood, of Tombstone, J. G. Warden.

The newly organized Grand Lodge F. and A. M. of Arizona send greeting to the fraternity abroad.

PIMA COUNTY GRAND JURY.
The Grand Jury of Pima county have found twenty-one indictments, among others, against Howell Wheeler, Indian Agent of the Maricopa and Papago Indians, for burning down the houses of settlers on the Papago reservation two months ago, when he drove the settlers from the reservations. Indictments were also found against the parties who assassinated Frank Stillwell. The Grand Jury report the indebtedness of Pima county to be $44,918.

A special from Deming says that A. N. Towne arrived there this morning on his way to San Francisco.

Striking for Liberty.

GALVESTON, March 27.—Six colored convicts working on the Texas Pacific road killed the guard and escaped. Two fled into Mexico, the others were pursued and two killed, and two were captured.

SAN FRANCISCO NEWS.

Arrested on Suspicion of Smuggling Opium.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—While the steamship City of Tokio was entering the harbor to-day she was boarded by two U. S. Deputy Marshals, who arrested John Hennessy, purser of the steamer, and Henry Kennedy, steward. These parties were arrested on suspicion of being engaged in smuggling opium into this port from Hong Kong. Their rooms were searched, but nothing suspicious discovered. The defendants were admitted to bail in $5,000 each. The case will be examined to-morrow before the U. S. Commissioner.

SHIPPING DISASTERS.
A dispatch from Empire City says that the tug Fearless and the schooner Gatania struck on the north spit yesterday while going to sea. The schooner got off in a badly strained condition and was towed to North Bend half filled with water, where she will be beached, unloaded and repaired. The tug is still aground and is reported to be badly damaged.

Making a Creed.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—The First Congregational Church, Dr. Barrows pastor, has after full deliberation, adopted almost unanimously a new creed, making an important departure. On the subject of the Trinity it favors the view of threefold manifestation instead of the tri-personal dogma. The doctrine of election is omitted; good works and a godly life being taken as the fruits and evidence of faith. On the question of scriptural inspiration the word infallible is dropped. The articles of the old creed on original sin and inherited depravity are omitted; the word "atonement" is not in the new creed, and the doctrine of reconciliation on behalf of all men takes the place of vicarious atonement for the select only. The doctrine of retribution, but not the dogma of eternal punishment, appears in the new creed, which holds that man shall be judged according to that he has done. "Baptism is mentioned as a privilege not limited to so far as children are concerned to the household of church members. Dr. Barrows in an interview states that these changes will probably be found to accord with those to be recommended by the committee appointed at the last general council of the Churches to revise the creed, and who will report at the next Triennial Council. The new departure occasions much comment in religious circles.

POWDER WORKS BLOWN UP.
An Oakland dispatch says that the powder works at Stege's Station, Alameda county has been blown up. Later news from Oakland is to the effect that an explosion occurred at the Berkeley Black Powder works. The buildings are burning and medical assistance is asked; several doctors have gone to the scene. About fifty men, mostly white, were employed at the works.

VIOLATORS OF LAW.
Complaints were filed to-day against about 600 violators of the Sunday law.

TELLER RESIGNS.

Senator Teller has written out his resignation. It is generally understood that Gov. Pitkin will give the seat to Gen. Rout.

DEMOCRATS OPPOSE DAKOTA'S ADMISSION.

The Democrats have evidently determined to oppose the admission of Dakota as a State into the Union. At the request of the Democratic members of the Senate Territorial Committee, the bill favoring its admission was ordered recommitted so that they could submit a minority report against it.

MASON'S CASE.

The Supreme Court did not reach a decision in the matter of the petition of Sergeant Mason for writ of habeas corpus and certiorari.

SHIPWRECK SICK.

Shipwreck is still sick and will be unable to testify for several days.

"THERE'S MANY A SLIP."

It is now stated that Teller will be nominated on Wednesday for Secretary of the Interior. As the Senator himself is the authority for saying that the position had been offered to Teller by the President, and accepted by him, the report is accepted as true.

MASON'S TRIAL INVALID.

The Judge Advocate General has submitted his report to the Secretary of War in the Sergeant Mason case. He holds that Mason is not lawfully confined and that the proceedings of the Court Martial were invalid.

A VETO NOT PROBABLE.

The anti-Chinese bill has been sent to the President, but it is not probable that he will act on it until after the regular cabinet meeting Tuesday. There appears to be no reason to believe he will veto it.

SILVER DOLLAR CIRCULATION.

The circulation of standard silver dollars for the week ending March 25, was $18,900, against $140,492 for the corresponding week of 1881.

S. P. ROUNDS IN LUCK.

WENDELL PHILLIPS.

Representative Candler, of Massachusetts, has received a telegram from Phillips, which he will have read in the House to-morrow. It is as follows: "Years ago I published in California my detestation of all restrictions on Chinese immigration as inconsistent, absurd, unjust and wicked."
(Signed) WENDELL PHILLIPS.

Fire at Richmond.

RICHMOND, March 27.—To-day the Richmond and Pittsburgh railroad bridge, three tobacco factories, six steamers, the Vulcan Iron Works, a number of other manufacturing establishments and about twenty tenements occupied by poor people were burned. A heavy gale prevailed. Loss, about half a million dollars. One life lost and several minor casualties.

Earth to Earth.

BOSTON, March 26.—The funeral of Longfellow to-day was attended by many persons famous in literature. The services, which were short, were conducted by Rev. Samuel Longfellow, brother of the deceased. The remains were laid in the family vault in Mount Auburn cemetery. Memorial services were held in the evening in the chapel of Harvard College. The eulogy was pronounced by Prof. C. C. Everett.

Mining Disaster.

AUSTIN, Nev., March 27.—To-day a young man named Austin Parrott fell down the shaft at the King Alfred mine, striking on the 250-foot station, which, fortunately, stopped his possible descent a distance of 800 feet. Though badly injured, he was not killed. While assisting in rescuing Parrott, Charles Curdell fell down the shaft. He was horribly mangled and killed outright.

FOREIGN SYMPATHY.

The telegraph is doing much to make all the world akin. So rapidly is intelligence spread that the most distant peoples can now mourn with us and mingle their tears with ours over any calamity that may call them forth. And we rejoice in each other's joy, and are neighbors in all that pertains to offices of kindness. We noticed in our morning paper the announcement from Boston under date of March 24th of the death of Longfellow. On the same date, the London Times, three thousand miles away, thus joins in our nation's mourning: "The news of Longfellow's death will be read with deep regret wherever the English language is spoken. The death of no literary Englishman could excite more genuine sorrow than that of the much-loved author of 'Evangeline.' He will be no more sincerely lamented in America than in this country." We are reminded of the communications which passed between England's Queen and President Buchanan on the occasion of laying the first Atlantic Cable in 1858. "The Queen is convinced that the Electric Cable which now connects Great Britain with the United States will prove an additional link between the nations whose friendship is founded upon their common interest and reciprocal esteem." And thus President Buchanan: "May the Atlantic Telegraph under the blessing of Heaven, prove to be a bond of perpetual peace and friendships, and an instrument destined by Divine Providence to diffuse religion, civilization, liberty and law throughout the world." The cable has not disappointed the expectations of those who thus bespoke for it a beneficent mission.

A LOS ANGELENO ASSASSINATED.

On Sunday morning the telegraph brought the intelligence that Martin R. Peel, the son of Col. B. L. Peel, late of this city, but now of Tombstone, A. T., was assassinated at Charleston, A. T., on Saturday night last. There are no particulars known here at present, and not even a conjecture can be given of the cause that led to the sad affair. Mr. Peel was a young man much esteemed by all who knew him. His manner was quiet, habits exemplary in the highest degree, and he was not a person at all likely to be a breeder of a quarrel. In the absence of testimony we shall assume the assassination was unprovoked and unjustifiable. Mr. Elliot, of the First National Bank, is a brother-in-law of Mr. Peel. Himself and family and other friends and relatives will have the deep sympathy of all who knew the amiable young gentleman. Private letters received last evening give no light on the subject other than is contained in the telegrams. The whole matter is enshrouded in mystery.

An English pomologist suggests the payment of three pence for queen wasps, dead. So enormous is their increase that they are very destructive to fruit. He estimates each queen can produce 10,000 young.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Daily Titan is the name of a new paper published at San Jose by Cottle & Wright.

An improved nut-lock is a movable lock to be moved up on a nut on a bolt which by the ordinary motion or jar is liable to get loose. It is a good thing for railroads, and may be applied to wagons.

A Georgian inventor has brought out what appears to be a meritorious thing in a saddle-girth, which can be tightened by the rider while in his seat. A combination of pulley and buckles does the work.

An English engineer has calculated that on the Northwestern Railway, using steel rails, one-third of a pound of steel is worn off for every mile run. And the wear on the engines is such that with 1,677 in use a new one is required every five days.

Berlin has an elevated railway which cost $16,000,000, or $2,300,000 per mile. Its construction and high rent in the heart of the city has created such a building furor in the suburbs that there are now 15,000 unrented dwellings.

Among the novelties in new inventions is that of a four-barrelled shotgun. The barrels are stationary, breech-loading. There is no hammer exposed like the ordinary gun; but a similar substitute which is operated by a trigger not unlike that of the "bull-dog" pistol, the barrels being discharged in rapid succession if desired.

For the ladies there is a new thing in the way of a hair pin just invented. The ends of the pin are first bent out and then in toward each other, so as to form at the point a clasp which seizes and holds a lock of hair, and the exterior shoulders of which bent portions also prevent the pin from slipping out.

To frighten stock from a railroad track a pipe has been run round the point of the cow-catcher and connected with the boiler. On the extreme point of the catcher the pipe is perforated so when it is desired to frighten the stock from the track, steam and water are ejected therefrom. If this should work well the cow-catcher won't catch cows worth a cent.

New Orleans is speculating over an electric light tower five hundred feet in height. A daring inventor proposes to build it of cast iron, in sections. The top is first to be constructed, and lower sections added, that above being raised by hydraulic power, and kept perpendicular by guys. The lamp is to be stationary at the top, and the trimmer is to be sent up on the inside on a platform moved by compressed air. The cost of the tower is estimated at $30,000.

THE TELEPHONE.

Los Angeles and San Diego Having A Chat by Wire.

The long conceived idea that the telephone can only be worked for short distances is fast being dispipated. There have been frequent trials of the instrument in which they showed capacity for work up to one hundred miles and better, and it is said there are lines in this State forty-five to eighty miles in length where good service is done. Sunday evening a second trial was had to work between this city and San Diego, and with the most gratifying success. The participants, among others, were Messrs. Spence, Friedman, Lacy, Haines and Supt. Lawrence, of this city, and J. W. Thompson and family and Gus. Torres, of San Diego. The distance by wire is one hundred and twenty-five miles. The result, considering the condition of the wire, was good. The wire used, a telegraph sharp, was not first-class, having been in use twelve years, and during that time, applied to death without proper soldering of joints. The trial satisfied all participants that with a good wire the telephone, as at present developed, is a reliable message bearer for one hundred miles and better, and so well did the instrument work that Mr. Torres' voice was plainly distinguishable to his friends here.

GEMMA TIOZZO.

The Renowned Contralto's Complimentary Concert.

Turnverein Hall was filled last night by a good audience to listen to choice selections of song and oratory. Miss Lombardo's solo, "Der Freischutz," was rendered admirably.

W. G. Cogswell was twice encoored for the excellent manner in which he executed the solo, "Yeoman's Wedding Song."

One of the sweetest songs of the evening was "La Favorita," by Miss Nona Ferner, receiving as a reward two encores. Miss Ferner is becoming "La Favorita" of Los Angeles.

The gem of the evening was a recitation entitled "Searching for the Sinner," by Miss Jennie B. Moore, recently from Toronto, Canada. She carried the audience with her in the vivid description of the scenes she pictured in such beautiful and eloquent word painting. The closing part of the piece was sublime, and drew tears from nearly every one present. All who heard her enjoyed a surprising delight.

The fourth act of La Favorita, in which Miss Gemma Tiozzo appeared as "Leonora," Signora Antonini as "Fernando" and Mr. Bartholome as "Baldassarre" were well sustained. Altogether and separately the programme was fine and nicely executed.

Mr. J. Loew will begin work on his warehouse at Santa Ana in about two weeks. The building is to be fifty by one hundred and fifty feet.

The citizens of Arleta have petitioned to the Postmaster General to get a post-office at that place. Wm. Wilson is recommended as postmaster.

The shipments from Downey for the week ending March 14, were: Corn, 40,325 pounds; eggs, 4,140; merchandise, 5,050; total, 47,525 pounds. The receipts were $1,540.

R. B. Bedwell who resides one-half a mile west of Downey, brought to this office last Monday, an orange sprout of one year's growth, raised on his place, that measured eleven feet and one inch.

Mr. H. L. Montgomery left on our table last week a mammoth-sized lemon. It measured 13 inches in circumference one way and 14 inches another. It was raised on Mr. Montgomery's place and is of the Sicily variety.

We learn from Mr. J. E. Pleasants that so far the bees have fared very well, and that if the country is favored with a few more showers, the prospects for a crop of honey will be good.

Anaheim Lodge and Orpheus Lodge of I. O. O. F. have decided to give a social and ball on the evening of April 26th, the anniversary of the organization of the Order in the United States.

As soon as the details have been fixed upon, the programme of the evening will be published.

One of the most beautiful sights in the country now is the apricot orchard of Mr. F. J. Schmidt. The eleven hundred trees are full of bloom, and the effect is very pleasing. The trees will probably each bear 150 pounds of fruit, and Mr. Schmidt is considering the propriety of purchasing a drier in order to preserve the crop.

Under the influence of the warm weather of the past few days the walnut trees have begun to bloom, and one-year-old vines have also burst their buds. Older vines have not yet shown life, though a continuance of the present kind of weather will soon start them into activity. This time last year the vineyards had all started and were a mass of green.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

[Yuma Sentinel.]

Mrs. Seth Green and niece, Miss Emma Hankins, of Los Angeles, spent a few days in Yuma this week.

The old placers near Ehrenberg, Weaver's District, are giving big returns of late. A large number of very coarse nuggets are being found by the lucky workers.

The merchants of Yuma have decided to abolish the "bit" system. Hereafter articles the price which was a bit, will be sold at ten or fifteen cents, according to value, and the correct change given. This brings nickle coins into circulation.

A communication in the Albuquerque Journal of recent date reports a strike of a ledge of tin ore near Grants, New Mexico, and the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad. The Geologist of the company has visited the lead and vouched for the find. This discovery, if it turns out to be what is claimed for it, that it is a veritable ledge of tin ore, will entitle the discoverer to a premium from the United States Government of $20,000 immediately.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. Gillette returned from her visit to Riverside yesterday.

Judge O. S. Witherby, after a two weeks' visit in Los Angeles, returned yesterday to San Diego.

Dr. Karl Rose, of Germany, an old schoolmate of Dr. Joseph Kurtz, is stopping at the Pico House.

Mr. Thomas Meredith started yesterday for Lower California, where he has mining interests. Will be absent about two weeks.

Mr. Harry Blasdel and his sister, Miss Marjorie, of Oakland, who have been visiting their relatives in this city, will return home this morning.

J. M. Zion, the anti-monopoly man, is at the Pico, having come from Riverside, where he organized a very large and powerful Anti-monopoly Club.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Worham started yesterday for Banning station on the line of the Southern Pacific where Mr. Worham has his flock of sheep.

Mr. Anson Brown, of Lincoln, Nebraska, is in the city. He has spent most of the winter at San Diego, and is very favorably impressed with the orange groves and sunny climate of Los Angeles the best, and finding business active, has concluded to remain here permanently. His family are expected to be here soon. Mika cum tux Chinook wawhaw!

"Anything taken place to-day?" asked Mr. Frelinghuysen, as he walked in and elevated his boots to the top of the cabinet table. "Nothing," replied Mr. Arthur, without looking up from the tantalizing pages of the Patent-office report. "There were lots of fellows here who wanted to take it, however."

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

Bill to Protect Navigable Waters of California Printed.

Rumors that the President Will Veto the Chinese Bill Denied—Secretary Hunt to Retire—Other Matters.

[Associated Press Dispatches.]

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Colonel G. H. Mendell's final report upon his project to protect the navigable waters of California against the effects of hydraulic mining has been printed with unusual promptness and advance copies were received by the House Committee on Commerce to-day, in accordance with an arrangement made by Chairman Page, who intends to bring the subject up for consideration at the earliest possible period, with a view to having the appropriation for the purpose inserted in the annual River and Harbor appropriation bill. Page is confident that the Committee will act upon the proposition favorably, and that an adequate appropriation to begin the work will be provided by Congress during the present session of the Senate. The Public Lands Committee to-day reported back Senator Farley's bill to give the State of California lieu lands for school sections. It is found to be the universal desire, and they recommend its passage with some slight amendments.

RUMORS DENIED.

Rumors that President Arthur intends to veto the Chinese bill are extensively circulated and will find some believers, but all the members of the Pacific coast delegation continue to feel cheerfully confident that he will on no account fail to sign it.

ANOTHER DENIAL.

The Star this evening says: "The rumor published in many papers positively asserting that on account of the passage of the Anti-Chinese Bill by Congress, the Chinese Minister would remove the legation to Madrid is untrue. He was originally accredited to Spain as well as to this country, and he will go there this Spring; but his wife will remain here until he returns, and so will certain gentlemen of the legation. It will be remembered that the former Chinese Minister, Chin Lan Pin, after remaining here a few months went to Spain to present his credentials and then returned to Washington to live."

NEW YORK NOTES.

Senator Eaton's Opinion of the Chinese Bill.

New York, March 27.—A Mail and Express Washington correspondent says ex-Senator Eaton, who was Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate when the America-Chinese treaty was framed, said to-day that he does not regard the text of the bill which has just passed both houses as antagonistic to the spirit or letter of the treaty, except in the particular that the twenty years' suspension clause is an excessive period and consistent with what the treaty designs as reasonable time.

PRELIMINARY ON THE CHINESE BILL.

A Washington special to the Commercial Advertiser says: Members of the New Jersey delegation say that Secretary Frelinghuysen is opposed to the approval of the Chinese bill and that he will advise the President to veto it. The Chinese Minister and Secretary Frelinghuysen have talked over the provisions of the bill and it is understood the former takes the ground that some of its provisions are in direct violation of treaty stipulations.

HUNT WILL SOON HUNT ANOTHER BIT.

The Post's Washington correspondent says it is certain that Secretary Hunt is to leave the Navy Department. He told a friend recently that the President had decided to remove him; at the time of this conversation the Secretary did not know whether or not the President had any other place which he designed to offer him. The general impression is, however, that some position of trust and profit will be tendered to Hunt. It is understood that the President decided to make a change some time ago, but Hunt only knew of his intention within a few days. The question of a successor naturally excites great interest. W. E. Chandler is supposed to be the coming man. He is very strongly backed by outside influence, and would be very acceptable to navy officers.

Cook County Representatives.

SPRINGFIELD, Mar. 27.—Cronkite in the House introduced a bill which gives Cook county four Representatives in Congress, and distributes the rest in the State. Cook county now has three Representatives.

THE POWDER EXPLOSION.

The Vulcan Powder Works—List of the Killed and Wounded.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—The explosion across the bay this morning occurred in the granulating house of the Vulcan Powder company, where the manufacture of black blasting powder was in progress. A fire broke out in the room, communicating almost instantly to the powder, only a small quantity of which was in the building. A blast of flame, however, rushed across the passage separating the granulating from the drying house. In the latter about three tons of powder were stored, which at once exploded. The concussion was not heavy and the windows of buildings two hundred yards distant were not broken. The dry house was blown to pieces, killing or wounding all the men at work there. Following is the list of killed: George Stansfield, engineer; H. C. Lamb, carpenter; L. W. Starr, carpenter; Thomas Mills, carpenter; Mr. Stewart, general assistant about the works and six Chinamen. Wounded: G. Koch, carpenter; W. B. Dale, foreman of works; Pete Schafer, carpenter, and Mr. Ferris, also carpenter. The result of the injuries of the wounded men is doubtful. The loss of property will probably fall within $25,000.

E. A. Edwards, of the Continental Oil Company, is making strenuous efforts to have the Newhall oil refinery moved to Los Angeles and operated here on a large scale.

Messrs. Holmes & Scott, 110 Spring street, received three carloads of the popular Santa Clara coal yesterday. This coal is growing in favor for domestic use, steadily.

Three complaints against violators of the Sunday law were issued from Pasadena yesterday, two from Compton, and nine here, all against parties for transacting business in Los Angeles on the 25th instant.

Mr. Ed. Dunham, of the Pico House, not only closed his bar on Sunday, but walked up and paid his fine yesterday for the infraction of the law the previous Sunday. Mr. Dunham will enjoy in a greater degree the respect of the public for this action.

The April Semi-Tropic California, which has been laid upon our desk, is an exceptionally good number, with letters from different sections of Southern California, in addition to the good things with which it is usually stored.

As an indication of the profits derived from peanut vending, it is noted that the faithful dispenser of that toothsome nut on the corner of Commercial street, is building a home on Ducommun street, to cost about $1,000.

Every lover of fine art should not fail to examine the elegantly framed oil painting now on exhibition in J. A. Valder's show window. It represents a team of three horses near the sea side and bears evidence of great taste and skill highly creditable to the artist who painted it—Mrs. J. A. Valder.

Rev. Dr. Cranston's discourse at the University on Sunday is described as a very able one, learned, crisp and elegant. He left for his home in Denver last evening via San Francisco, well pleased with Southern California's prospects and people.

C. P. Jillion is constantly improving his stock by adding new and choice varieties. His Plymouth Rocks, particularly, are superb. An employee of the Texas office has just had twelve fine chickens hatched out of thirteen eggs. This is only one of many such instances constantly reported in behalf of Jillion's eggs.

Mr. H. T. Burchard, late of Denver, died yesterday morning at the Kimball mansion, of hypertrophy of the heart. The remains will be returned to Denver for interment. Mr. Burchard had been an invalid for some time and came here with the hope of being benefited, but the disease proved to be too deep-seated for climatic influences to affect, and he succumbed to its inroads.

Mr. Mueller's elegant residence on Hill street was completed last Saturday. The two fine residences now being built for him on Temple street are almost completed, and the carpenters have commenced another on Charity street, near Temple, for him. Mr. Mueller is level-headed, realizing as he does that no investments promise such returns as those of real estate at the present time.

Decapitated.

Passengers in from Yuma last evening relate that as a freight train drawn by engine twenty-two was nearing Yuma yesterday morning a man ran out from the brush along the track and deliberately laid his neck across the rail in front of the engine, his head on one side, his body on the other. The train was so near that it was impossible to stop it, and the man's head was completely severed from the body. It was a most deliberate case of suicide. The man's name was not ascertained.

JAMES C. EARP

Recounts the History of the Bitter Feud with the Cowboys.

Visits Los Angeles—Who He Is and a Bit of Family History—Jumping from a Coal Pit into a Parlor.

Yesterday James C. Earp and wife, of Tombstone, Arizona, registered at the Pico House, and in the afternoon Mr. Earp allowed a Times reporter a lengthy interview. He stated that he had just come from Colton, where he had been visiting his parents, and had buried his brother, Morgan, a week ago last Sunday. He had left Tombstone a few days previous in company with his and Morgan's wife, bringing his brother's dead body to Colton for burial. Mrs. Morgan Earp is now with her parents-in-law at Colton. Mr. Earp is accompanied here by his wife, a very beautiful brunette. He himself is a blonde, blue eyes, light hair, about five feet six inches high, rather stout of build, has a heavy mustache, and very neatly dressed.

WHAT TO SAY.

At the outset of the interview he said that whatever he would say might be used for publication. The Earp family originally came from Kentucky, and consists at present of the two parents, the five famous brothers of Tombstone, and a half brother, by their father's first wife, who is living in Kansas. The boys were all born in Illinois, and lived during their youth in Iowa. They afterwards moved into Arizona, and about three years ago the five boys

WENT TO TOMBSTONE, When there were but a half dozen houses in the place, the parents coming to Colton. At Tombstone they have by hard work and close attention to business acquired many thousands of dollars worth of property, having one claim next to the Bismarck mine, for which they refused an offer of $16,000. They also own twenty acres of choice agricultural land adjoining the town site of Tombstone. Their industry and perseverance won them the honor of being elected to various offices of trust. Virgil Earp being United States Deputy Marshal and Morgan Earp was selected by Wells, Fargo & Co. as their messenger. It was in the performance of their duties as officers that

THE FIRST TROUBLES AROSE. About a year ago the Bismarck mine was robbed of a vast amount of treasure and the United States mail. The Earp boys at once proceeded to work up the case, and soon found that two fellows named Peter Spence and Frank Stillwell were implicated. These parties they promptly arrested. Their preliminary examination was held at Tucson. Spence was cleared and Stillwell was bound over till the next term of court, which is now about to assemble. [Stillwell was killed a few days ago.] Stillwell, after getting out on bail, commenced stirring up bad blood in Tombstone. Associated with him were Frank and Tom McLowery, Billy and Ike Clanton, John Ringo and Peter Spence. These all

BEGAN MAKING THREATS Against the Earp boys, who were informed by friends of their danger, and prepared themselves for self-defense, not knowing at what moment they might be shot down underhandedly by the villains against whom they had only done their simple duty in enforcing the law. In the language of Mr. Earp, "They all made an agreement that they had to get rid of the Earp boys before they could do anything in that country." The state of affairs became worse, and threats became more frequent, and the Earp boys were forced to make affairs worse. At last Frank McLowery came to the Earp boys and said, "I understand you have JOINED THE VIOLENCE Committee to hang us fellows." To which Virgil Earp promptly replied, "You know that ain't no business of mine to know what your authority is? You know that anybody that told you that is a liar!" Frank replied, "Well, I heard so, but if you say it ain't so, I will believe you." They then asked who told him, and he replied, "Johnny Behan." The Earps then replied that Johnny Behan was a condemned misrepresenting. To which Frank answered, "Well, Virgil, I believe you." Nothing more was said until the

DIFFICULTY WITH THE CLANTON About five or six months ago, about the 25th or 26th of last October, the Clanton came into Tombstone, and "got on a tear," and said he was going to kill the Earps on sight. James heard of it and told Virgil Earp's threats. The Earps then went to look for Ike, and found him near the postoffice on Fourth street. Virgil walked up to him, and said, "Ike, I want your gun." Clanton turned around, and threw his Winchester rifle down on Virgil Earp, who being close at hand, caught the gun and threw it over to one side, and drawing his six-shooter knocked Clanton down with it, and then arrested him, and took him before Judge Wells and he was fined for carrying concealed weapons. Ike then sent for his brothers to come to town, when they did, got their guns, swearing they would KILL THE EARPS On sight. Several citizens came and told Virgil Earp that four or five armed men declaring their intentions to kill him were in town. They wanted him to go and disarm these men. Virgil then called upon his brothers Wyatt and Morgan, and Doc Holliday, to go with him and disarm the cowboys.

The Clanton party were back of the O K corral on Fremont street, and thither Marshall Earp and his posse were going, on their way to do their legal duty. When they got there they met Sheriff Behan coming back, who said to the Earps, "Boys, don't go down there; you've got murdered." Virgil replied, "I have to go and do my duty and disarm them." Behan then came on a little further and met Morgan and Wyatt Earp and told them that he had disarmed the Clanton crowd.

The Earp party then went on till they were about ten feet from the Clantons, when Virgil said, "Boys, throw up your hands. Give up your guns." The Clantons replied, "All right," and commenced drawing their pistols and shooting. The Earps replied likewise. Billy Clanton and Frank and Tom McLowery were killed instantly. Ike broke and ran, and left his dead brother on the field. Morgan Earp was shot through the shoulder. Virgil Earp was shot through the leg. This fight occurred about three o'clock in the afternoon. James Earp was just sitting down to supper in his house about a hundred and fifty yards away from the fighting. At the first shot he grasped his pistol and rushed to the scene, and got there in time to see Tom McLowery go down in death. Doc Holliday and Wyatt Earp were arrested and cleared in the preliminary examination. The grand jury also

REFUSED TO DISMISSTHEM.

Last January a desperate attempt was made to take Virgil Earp's life. It is not known who did it. He was coming out of the Oriental saloon to go home, when three double-barreled shotguns, filled with buckshot, were fired at him. Two of the shot struck his back and were not out afterwards. His left arm was shattered, the humerus bone being broken. The surgeons afterwards took out a six-inch piece of it, thus rendering the arm perfectly useless. Virgil is now at Colton, and yet suffers from his wounds, but is slowly recovering.

KILLING OF MORGAN EARP.

This took place on the 18th inst. The Earp brothers had been to hear the Lingard troupe. On coming away, friends told them to be on the lookout. They went into a saloon, and Morgan Earp with Bob Hatcher and the proprietor and several others commenced playing pool. Morgan went around to the end of the billiard table, and turning his back to a glass door, bent down to play, when the bullets were fired.

FATAL SHOTS WERE FIRED.

From the outside. One struck him in the back and came out through the stomach. Another hit his spine, and, going through him, struck another man in the leg. They carried Morgan into another room and he lived just one hour. Charlie Earp with Bob Hatcher and the proprietor and several others commenced playing pool. Morgan went around to the end of the billiard table, and turning his back to a glass door, bent down to play, when the bullets were fired.

PARTIAL SHOTS WERE FIRED.

The murderers of Morgan Earp were discovered by the confession of Peter Spence's wife, who implicated Spence, Stillwell, some Mexicans, and others. Mr. Earp admitted that his crowd had found partial revenge in their deaths, and would seek more.

PRESENT MOVEMENTS.

The papers stated the Earps refused to be arrested a few days ago. Mr. Earp said this was not the case. He said that Sheriff Behan or Paul had never said anything about warrants or arrests. Behan said to them, "I want to see you." Wyatt replied, "Behan, I don't want to see you." "I have seen you too often," he said. "I will see you at Tucson," Mr. Earp here further said his brothers had no idea of taking to the Dragoon mountains, nor had they been there. They were at Sycamore Springs, about six miles from Tombstone. They had too much property in Tombstone to leave it, and they propose to stay there and fight it out to the bitter end. This is his

FIRST TALK WAS "LIKE JUMPING FROM A COAL PIT INTO A PARLOR."

He said it was "like jumping from a coal pit into a parlor," to come up from Tombstone; the only thing that kept him there was his mines; every kind of business is overdone; will probably go back to Colton to-day and will return to Arizona as soon as he hears from his brothers, doesn't know anything about their subsequent movements since his leaving the Territory, only what he has seen in the papers; he is forty-two years old, and the oldest of the five brothers; Tombstone has between four and five thousand inhabitants; business is dull, and lots of men are idle.

COURT NOTES.

JUDGE HOWARD'S COURT.

In the matter of the estate of E. Naud, an appropriation for family allowance was continued till next Monday, April 3d, at 10 A. M. A jury trial was waived on the part of the petitioner. H. T. Gage was entered as an attorney of record for the petitioner. On motion of W. R. Chapman it was stipulated by the parties herin, in open court, that the deposition of Mrs. Valdez may be taken by Charles J. Fox, reporter, and transcripts of his notes may be used at the trial of this case as testimony of said witness, subject to all the objections and exceptions as to competency and relevancy of the evidence. J. C. Kays was sworn to act as interpreter. Dolores Duarte Valdez was sworn and her testimony taken down by the shorthand reporter. The case was continued. A return of the coroner's inquest on the property was heard and confirmed in the estate of Francis McLean, deceased.

JUDGE SEPULVEDA'S COURT.

In the case of Johnson against Squires, a defendant of defendant to the complaint, about an interview of Jesus Leon, was submitted, and ten days were allowed in which to file points. In the suit of Gibbs and others against McDonald and others the defendant was overruled, ten days given to answer. A motion to retax costs, in the case of Kennedy against Davis and others, was heard and submitted. The plaintiff's costs were taxed at $15.15. The defendant for a new trial was denied, and a stay of ten days granted. The case of County Recorder Lamb was up again yesterday. The objections to the legal sufficiency of the accusations were overruled. The defendant denied the accusations, and pleaded not guilty. The trial was set for Tuesday, April 10, at 10 A. M.

The Shorb trial has a special venire of forty-eight jurors ordered, returnable at 10 A. M. to-morrow. Louis Marcel, a native of France, was naturalized.

Brewer, T. J. Akin, A. Rorick, J. W. Clark, H. T. Finney, Thomas Gray, J. Baldwin, L. Starbuck, S. W. Ladow and J. J. Davis. The witnesses for the prosecution were: M. Gaddy, N. E. Gaddy, E. D. Suits, E. Brown, Lucy Hild, William W. Elliott, John Donald and William B. Rowland. For the defense: L. Giroux, M. B. Boyce, Margaret Suits, George Rogers, J. H. P. Williams (in his own defense), B. Dimes vs. Bits.

It is yet hard for many people to discriminate between the old-fashioned "bit" and the new-fangled dime. Yesterday afternoon four individuals went up to a bar at the depot to get a ten-cent drink. After bubbling one of the crowd threw down a four-bit piece, expecting to get back a dime. The bartender tilted the cash, counting of course that four dimes were worth a bit each. This the fellow who paid could not see, and quite emphatically and publicly condemned the custom of a country where ten digits equaled twelve and a half digits, and twelve and a half constituted no greater number than ten. For ways that are dark and tricks that are vain, the barkeep is peculiar.

FLORENCE.

A Musical Entertainment at the M. E. Church.

On last Friday evening the M. E. Church at Florence was well filled with a musical-loving class of people, to listen to a musical entertainment given under the management of Prof. Chas. E. Day, of Los Angeles; and according to promise he was accompanied with a goodly number of excellent singers from that noted city of the Angels. The programme consisted of choruses, quartets, duets, and several solos, and the different parts were well executed by Prof. Day, Madame Marra, Miss Ferner, Mr. Abernethy, Mr. Roberts, Prof. Dorego the guitarist, and others sufficient to make the number about twenty, whose names your correspondent was unable to learn. Madame Marra sang in her pleasant manner, and also the solo singer, Miss Ferner, rendered her portions of the programme admirably. The guitar appeared well trained and produced good music at the option of Prof. Dorego. Prof. Day played and sang a song entitled "The Troubles of an Old Piano," by P. F. Bliss, which was interspersed with comical motions and finger thumping by the professor, but ending with a moral, calculated to instill within the mind the idea that worthy objects would not be despised because of old age and antique appearances, but to cherish it for the good it has done in bygone days.

Mr. Roberts brought along with him the mocking bird, but he was invisible in saying his "little verse." The choir also sang and laughed and laughed and sang a song entitled "A Jolly Good Hearty Laugh," and it was very contagious. Undoubtedly there was not a person in the audience but what indulged in the so called jolly good hearty laugh. This amusing outburst of hilarity was heartily encouraged, and Mr. Roberts still further amused the audience by a school-boy recitation which vividly pictured out the "fits and starts," bashful appearances and perplexing forgetfulness of a young hopeful while trying to do his very best in a recitation of the Lord's Prayer. The part of the entertainment was closed by a serenade song by Madame Marra, after which Rev. Mr. Hough, pastor of the church, addressed the musical band in beautiful English and French, and the church, in a pleasant manner, advising all who desired to purchase an organ to patronize Prof. Day.

Prof. Day made a few remarks thanking the audience for the kind and attentive pews were soon cheerfully vacated and the organ fund was nicely replenished from the proceeds of the evening's entertainment. J. F. C.
